Yes, thanks Rudy. We haven't heard from Swan Valley here either.

No, we have not been contacted. That is fine. But we do greatly appreciate that you have kept us informed. Will the epa be represented?

Thanks again

Tom, Haley, George,

I just received a heads up from program staff regarding a recent conversation with Swan Valley. The company Chief of Operations, John Leszczak is planning to hold a press event next week. He is also working with the Governor's office on the draft of a TV interview. It may be shared with us as early as tomorrow for comment.

He expects this to be a positive news story---8 of 16 people are back to work and the remainder will be back within a month; they are no longer using ammonia as a refrigerant; penalty agreement in principle is equitable.

Has the company reach out to any of your offices?

I will not be in the office tomorrow, but wanted to share the information that I had received even though I have few specifics. The positive news is that some people are back to work and others will return soon. I will be back in the office on Monday and share any new information that I receive.

Thanks. Have a great weekend.
